Happy news for locals

$9000 facelift for Altona pier

The Public Works Department will spend about $9000 restoring Altona's pier during the next two or three months.

Ports and Harbors branch maintenance men have been on the pier since late last week and are busy renovating and restoring it to its original state.

"Much of the work will consist of replacing piles on the pier giving it a longer life," a Public Works Department official told The Star yesterday.

"We are responsible for all the piers in the bay and Altona pier was in need of repairs."

The spokesman urged parents to keep a close watch on their children while workmen were on the pier during the next few weeks.

"Plant and equipment which children can climb on to could prove to be a danger if parents do not exercise caution," he said.

Renovations to the pier will be well received by the thousands who use it each summer and by local anglers, who are having a record season for flathead this summer.

"I have not seen such a good season for flathead for 15 years," sports store owner Mr. Ken Kim said yesterday.

"They are catching four-pounders off the pier and young anglers have been bringing in good catches right through the holidays."

Mr. Kim said he did not know what to attribute to the sudden abundance of flathead.

"We have had very rough weather lately and possibly this has stirred up the beach and brought the flathead in for feeding," he said.

Man gets broken jaw in bashing

Altona police are investigating the brutal assault of a young man in a lane opposite Altona railway station last week.

The assault took place at 4.45 p.m. last Wednesday, when Robert Edward Lee, a laborer of Civic Parade, was leaving the railway station with a friend.

A youth called Lee over to a lane that runs off Railway Street South, opposite the railway station.

Lee walked across to the lane, and his friend walked on.

When Lee was in the lane, another youth walked up to him and said: "What's this about rumors you're spreading about me?"

The youth then hit Lee on the right side of the jaw twice with a clenched fist.

Lee's jaw was badly broken and he was later admitted to Footscray and District Hospital.

Police are looking for a youth aged about 17, and five feet eleven inches tall with fair hair and skin.

Lee could not name his attacker, but remembers what he looks like.

The youth who struck him was wearing blue jeans.

Two in hospital after smash

Two men were taken to Footscray and District Hospital following a two-car collision at the intersection of Grieve Parade and Blyth Street last Sunday night.

The accident occured at 7.15 p.m. when a Holden panel van travelling west along Blyth Street and a Valiant sedan travelling north along Grieve Parade hit.

The driver of the Valiant and his passenger were both taken to Footscray and District Hospital by ambulance.

The driver of the panel van escaped with slight injuries.

Police were in attendance.

BULL TROUBLE

Police from Altona and Yarraville had their hands full last Sunday afternoon when a bull which broke loose from a paddock in Kororoit Creek Rd. charged at passing motorists in Millers Rd.

Constable Alan Kennedy of Altona Police called reinforcements from Yarraville when it became apparent that the bull was not going to be talked into giving himself up and coming along quietly.

With assistance from the Yarraville car, the bull was headed off into a nearby paddock.

The incident occurred at 3 p.m.

Good to see that the Public Works Dept. is carrying out the much needed repairs on the pier.

Anglers in particular will be happy because of the enormous numbers of Flathead which have been caught off the pier recently.

Arriving here next week is a Canadian schoolteacher who will take up duties at Altona North Technical School when the new term starts.

College dress goes casual

Students doing form six this year at St. Paul's College, Altona North, will be allowed to wear casual clothing to school.

'Portable' schools

Eight schools in the western suburbs will get new portable classrooms this year.

They are: Altona North Technical School, Footscray Primary School 253, Kealba High School, Kejlor South Primary School 4971, North Melbourne Primary School 2566, Paisley High School, Sunshine Heights Primary School 4744, and Williamstown High School.

These schools are among 104 in Victoria which will get a total of 180 new portable classrooms.

The Minister for Public Works, Mr. Murray Byrne, signed contracts for the building of the classrooms last week.

Mr. Byrne said that a record number of primary, secondary and technical schools would be built in Victoria this financial year. This was part of the Government's programme to meet the demands of the largest enrolment of children in Victoria's schools in the history of the State.

The largest sum of money ever would be spent on capital works associated with the Education Department, he said.

"Because of student population explosion in certain areas and the resultant urgent accommodation needs the provision of portable classrooms becomes a necessity," he said.

Mr. Byrne added that many months of close liaison work between the Education Department, the Public Works Department and the building industry had been put into the contracts in an all-out effort to meet the needs of many metropolitan and country areas.

The headmaster, Rev. Father D. H. Winters, SM, has given students the option of wearing school uniform or neat casual clothes.

He said in the January Newsletter: "In order to forestall any difficulties or misunderstandings, casual clothes do not include jeans or cords.

"Neat casual clothes, as defined by the professional clothiers, are dress slacks, shirt and tie and jumpers, pullovers or sports coats when necessary during the colder weather."

Form five students at St. Pauls will not have to do an external Leaving examination this year.

St. Pauls will join several other colleges in the northern and western suburbs in a moderating scheme.

The basic aim of the moderating procedure is to make it possible for subject teachers in different schools to develop courses of study and methods of assessment most suitable for their own students.

At the same time, by consultation with their colleagues from other schools, they will maintain comparability of standards of achievement among the schools.

A representative of the School's Examination Board will attend each meeting of the subject teachers and at the end of the year, the Board will award its certificate to successful students.

Form six students will have to sit for external Matriculation examinations as usual.

The moderating scheme will eliminate the usual third term "swat-back".

Work will be graded progressively through the year.

Form five students will have to do all the assigned work during the year and successfully pass the various tests given from time to time.

AFTER A FIVE-YEAR BATTLE...

Altona family adopts Vietnamese baby

The experiences of a Melbourne welfare worker in Vietnamese orphanages have led to an Altona couple winning their five year battle to adopt a Vietnamese child.

Mr. Tom Williams and his wife, Irene, of Moore Court, Altona, have been trying to adopt a Vietnamese baby since they heard a UNICEF representative interviewed on television about five years ago.

He was in Australia seeking medical treatment here for children who had been burned in the war, hoping that Australian foster parents could be found for the children after they had recovered.

His plan fell through, but Mr. and Mrs. Williams remained interested and tried every way they knew to arrange the adoption of a war baby.

Their chance finally came through Mrs. Elaine Moir, who lived in Vietnam for 18 months in 1966-7 and returned in June last year to find children for adoption in Australia.

She currently has six children being processed for adoption in Vietnamese courts and Mr. and Mrs. Williams' child, Mai Thi Kim Hoa (her Australian name will be Suyin) will be the first adoption completed.

Suyin is expected to arrive at the home of her new parents and their two adopted Australian born children in a few weeks.

Mrs. Moir started her rescue operations when she was horrified by conditions in the majority of Vietnamese orphanages.

She said: "Lack of trained staff, lack of finances and lack of organised support, added to the massive influx of orphaned and abandoned children, has made the situation nothing short of disastrous.

"With the imminent military withdrawal, it is the orphaned children who will suffer most.

"The soldiers always played daddy to the children of Vietnam, building swings and see saws for them, taking them on outings, helping out with food construction and medical and dental aid.

"The South Vietnamese Government is in no way equipped to subsidise the vast numbers of children in orphanages and to a very great extent, the orphanages exist on charitable hand outs.

"I saw many orphanages in and around Saigon and in the larger provincial towns.

"Everywhere thin wailing babies were crammed into over-crowded nurseries, virtual prisoners in their cots because there are not enough staff to supervise play periods, or take them for walks, or even just sit and cuddle them.

"The babies struggle on to hands and knees and rock themselves endlessly backwards and forwards until they fall down asleep.

"The toddlers were always milling around in groups, aimlessly looking for distraction.

"They had no toys, no supervision, no entertainment.

"The minute I would walk through the gate, they would emerge from every corner and clutch at my hands, legs, and skirts — begging to be picked up.

"When I had to leave, their arms had to be pried away from around my neck and as I left, I could hear them wailing behind me, with their tiny hands clutching desperately through the bars of the gates.

"I saw cases of malnutrition so hideous that the memory of those children still haunts me.

"I saw a dying child in a Saigon orphanage, about two years old.

"He could not even hold his head erect he was so weak, weighing only 10-12 lb.

"He was lying outside on a wooden bench, covered in filthy rags.

"Beside him was a bowl of mushed rice, covered in great black flies.

"The flies were crawling inside his nose and mouth.

"I rescued Mai Thi Kim Hoa from a Bein Hoa orphanage for Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

"She was five months old when I found here and tipped the scales at just seven pounds.

"She had a chronic hacking cough, acute diarrhoea and her head and neck were covered in large superating sores.

"Mai Thi Kin Hoa is now waxing fat and happy under the superb care of the World Vision Nutritional Centre in Saigon.

"In her first five weeks there, her weight improved from seven to 10 lb. and all ailments were cured".

Mrs. Moir is collecting babies and toddlers' clothing, toys, bouncinettes, napkins and other equipment to be taken to Vietnam.

She wants to ship out as much as possible before the troops pull out.

Items can be collected by phoning 398 1930, or they can be left with Mrs. Irene Williams, 7 Moore Court, Altona.

Rail works deferred

A project that was the key to improving peak period train services to the western suburbs will not be carried out as scheduled this year.

Two more rail tracks were to have been laid between South Kensington and Footscray.

But the Victorian Railway Commissioners have announced that the project has been deferred.

They said: "No new railway works of any magnitude are being undertaken in Victoria this financial year, as only $16 million loan money has been made available — virtually the same allocation made annually for the past 19 years."

Another project to be deferred is the duplication of the single line between Sunshine and Deer Park West.

The Commissioners said: "Priority must be given to the replacement of wooden-bodied suburban trains and extension of power signalling, in conjuction with automatic train stop protection.

"While loan money for the Railways has not altered for so many years, the purchasing power has diminished.

Expensive morning

Last Friday morning proved to be an expensive one for Mr. Bill Neal of Emu Avenue, Altona who lost $28 in notes somewhere in the Harrington Square Shopping Centre.

Mr. Neal told Altona Police that he had drawn the money from the State Savings Bank in Harrington Square at 11 a.m. and had lost $28 within an hour.

The sum lost comprised one $20 note, one $5 note and three $1 notes.

Mr. Neal said he was not able to find the money because the shopping centre was busy with shoppers.

Wallet lost

A brown leather gold-embossed wallet has been lost between Altona and Williamstown.

The wallet held about $60 in notes, a driver's licence and personal papers.

The name and address of the owner is on the licence.

Williamstown police have been notifed.

Blood wanted

The Red Cross mobile donor units will be waiting for blood donors at Williamstown Hall from 1.30 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Monday, February 7.

New donors are invited to enrol.

LOST SOMETHING?

A brown vinyl bag with a zipper top, which was found recently on the corner of Queen Street and Davies Street, has been handed into Altona Police.

The bag contains a can of shaving cream and Old Spice deodorant, Avon hair dressing and two safety razors. And a bottle of after shave lotion and a white comb.

Accident victim recovers

Mrs. Bill Smith of Altona — who was the victim of a freak accident in 1966 — is able to walk without pain for the first time in over five years.

Mr. Smith was driving his wife, Thelma, home from a city hospital, when a ladder on a truck travelling in the opposite direction suddenly came off its mountings and was flung onto their car.

Mrs. Smith suffered further injury to a wound on her back, and, until a delicate spinal operation recently, she was in constant pain.

She would like to warn all truck drivers about the tragic results of not tying their ladders to their truck — with a little care accidents like hers could be avoided.

Mrs. Smith would like to thank her former customers and friends for their enquiries and good wishes.

Barry Rudd is an instrument mechanic employed by Altona Petrochemical Company.

Barry completed his apprenticeship training at APC in 1969 and soon after was called up for National Service training, serving about 10 months in Vietnam.

He resumed employment with APC on October 1, 1971.

Just prior to Christmas, Barry was married and returned to work for a very pleasant surprise.

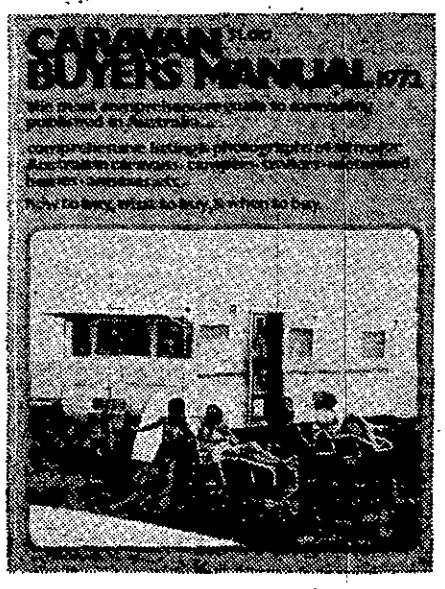

The Assistant Manager of APC's Maintenance and Construction Department, Max Chrimes, presented Barry with a cheque for $2490, representing the difference between his Army pay and the pay that he would have received had he not been called up for National Services.

The company's policy is to make up pay in these cases.

SCRAMBLE ACE AT BROOKLYN

National scramble champion Gary Flood will make his first appearance this Saturday night at the Brooklyn Speedway in his new Esso Solo Speedway bike.

Although this was not made public before, Gary has been practicing for a Speedway career, helped by ace international rider Neil Street.

His appearance will be this year's biggest bombshell in the motorcycle world.

Gary will hold final practice this Wednesday morning at the Metropolitan track at Brooklyn prior to his competitive appearance.

Californian modified sprint cars champion and star USA production car driver Gary Patterson will make his long awaited appearance at Brooklyn this Saturday night.

Gary, who was scheduled to appear at the Metropolitan track last Saturday night, was held up in Auckland, New Zealand, by order of the court, as he was required to give evidence as a witness.

This upset all his schedules for appearances as he was unable to leave New Zealand until Friday night.

This American "God's Gift to Peace Lovers" is possibly one of the world's most aggressive speedway drivers, and as he is very short tempered it is commonplace for him to feaure in some of the most spectacular racing acrobatics in his hurried, devil may care, tear through tactics.

He completely despises the public, deplores other competitors, and treats officials with disgust and disdain.

In a recent Speedway meeting when spectators jeered him, Gary jumped out of his car, defiantly threw his arm in the air in the universal peace sign, and yelled at the top of his voice, addressing the crowd as "Colonial Limies", causing an uproar.

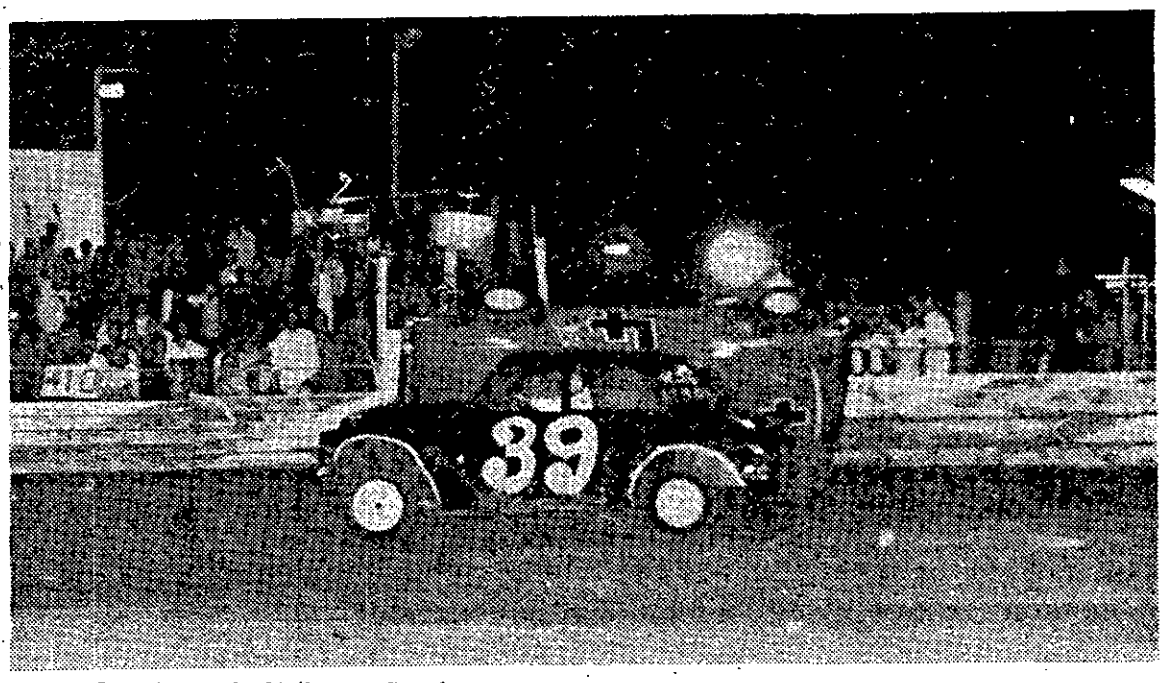

Yet the man must be conceded the credit of being one of the world's most competent stock car and spring car drivers.

It is unlikely that, with his temperament, officials, competitors and promoters would have tolerated him but for this.

The dilemma of the speedway officials at Brooklyn is grossly increased to the point of desperation as this hothead is scheduled to encounter another explosive character and highly temperamental driver, anti-hippie Victorian ace Mick Stagg.

It is the promoter's intention to warn off both drivers in advance and speedway officials will be instructed to restrain and physically remove either offender if and when an explosion occurs.

With the Mustang out of action, efforts are now being made to build Gary another Mustang, but should that fail he will be driving a Holden Monaro with a 327 hp V8 motor for the big encounter in production car racing against the local stars.

● Action at the Melbourne Speedway.

For his encounter in the super modifieds division he will have a Chevvy powered sprint car, and with the Californian championship already to his credit, ace Victorian drivers including Johnny McDonald will be hard put to thwart him.

The second major event on this double programme is the 1972 Victorian Mini Modifieds Championship, which has attracted a record number of entries and will be conducted over two heats and a final.

Jumping Jack of the Speedway, ace Mini Modified driver Wally May will return to the metropolitan track to contest the title.

In his own right, May is possibly one of Victoria's most spectacular drivers, and has the happy knack of being the only non-competitor who can somersault his car to a win, an epic many spectators will remember from last year.

Supporting events will be provided by motorbike solo and sidecars and hot rods and speedcars.

Ted Bohlander, making his first appearance at Brooklyn last Saturday night, found the Metropolitan track too wet and too heavy for his liking and, plagued with machinery trouble, failed to live up to his overseas reputation.

It fact, he was completely eclipsed by the local stars in both the super modifieds and production car divisions.

The final of the production car event went to Mick King in the flattering time of 5.10 m., while the supermodifieds fireball, the main event for sprint cars, was won by John McDonald in the particularly fast time of 5.22 m.

The inseparable partnership of Ray Welsh and the Victorian titles was recemented for another 12 months as the pint-sized hot rod wizard unleashed all his magic and masterly driving in a great display of skill and sheer ability to bolt away to a convincing victory from Jimmy Duggan, "runner-up", with Graham Pitcher in third position.

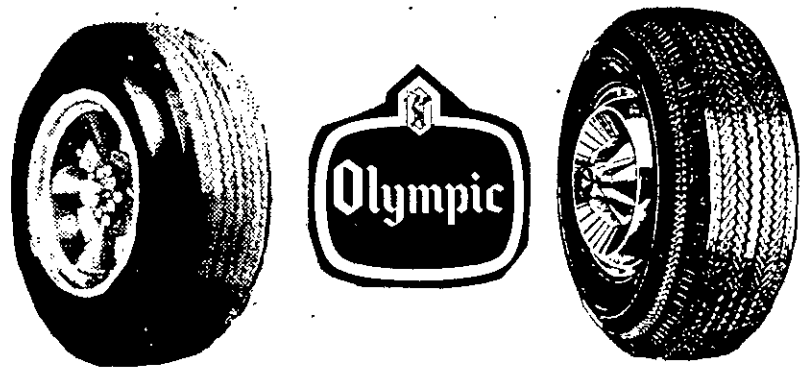

This is Welsh's sixth win of the Victorian title in succession, which must rate as an all-time record.

Refinery man off to Holland

The general manager of Petroleum Refineries (Australia) Pty. Ltd., Mr. Wilbur Yeo, left Melbourne last week for Amsterdam.

Mr. Yeo will become general manager of the Mobil Amsterdam Refinery.

Mr. Yeo, who joined the Mobil Oil group in 1948, has been at the Altona refinery since 1951. After having occupied several other positions, he became general manager in 1967.

At a farewell function held at the refinery, Mr. Phil Aplin, process manager, spoke highly of Mr. Yeo.

He said Mr. Yeo was regarded well in the Western suburbs, having been Community Service chairman of the Altona Rotary Club and a member of the Western Industries Association.

He said also that Mr. Yeo was well-known to all school principals in the area, and, through the company, had arranged many regular donations to hospitals, Elderly Citizens' clubs, youth organisations and other charities.

Mr. Yeo's replacement will be Mr. H. C. Hunt, who transfers from the Adelaide refinery this week.

IN THE AGE NEXT SATURDAY

"The Age" next Saturday, will produce a special classified guide to Melbourne's Display Homes. This will be a big feature, supported by editorial from "The Age" Display Homes expert, Rob Dingle. There will be a full guide, and comparisons between local and overseas trends in display home centres. Dingle will write about the best homes for the 70s, and the building costs associated with them. The feature will also contain the latest trends in the weekend display 'sightseeing' habits of 500,000 Melbournites who will be reading the paper. Six from West off overseas

Six people from the western suburbs were among a total of 34 Victorians who left Melbourne earlier this month for jobs overseas with the Overseas Service Bureau.

In all, 85 Australians departed for postings in underdeveloped countries, as part of the Australian Volunteers Abroad scheme for 1972.

This scheme, in its ninth year of operation, provided developing countries with skilled people to help in establishing industries and building-up essential services.

The volunteers are paid local rates — or, if the employers cannot afford this, they are provided with accommodation and a small allowance.

All the appointments are made at the specific request of the host countries.

The volunteers this year include 56 teachers, 10 nurses, five tradesmen, three engineers, two administrators, two social workers, a farmer, a librarian, a secretary, a laboratory technician, a geographer, a bacteriologist and a research chemist.

The volunteers from the western suburbs are:

- Mr. Peter Annear, of Cathcart Street, Maidstone, who will teach at the Dudley High School in Fiji.
- Miss Patricia Glynn, of Ailsa Street, Ascot Vale, who will nurse at Sideia Hospital in Papua.
- Mr. Ashley Kraft, of Maddox Road, Newport, who will be a vocational teacher at Baitabag Technical School in Papua. Mr. Kraft, a master wood machinist, made the stumps for the last Australia-England Test series.
- Miss Carmel Laragy, of Perth Street, Albion, who will teach at the Marianville Girls' High School in Port Moresby.
- Mr. Alan Vaughan, of Dixon Street, Werribee, who will teach at the Lumi Vocational Centre in Papua. He is an agriculturalist.
- And Mr. Terence Ward, of Francis Street, Yarraville, who returns for another year to the Selwyn College at Honiara, in the Solomons, as sportsmaster. It will be his third year at the College as an AVA worker.

CROATIA TO CLINCH SEMI-FINAL BERTH

Croatia seems likely to establish a near unbeatable lead in its Ampol Cup group by beating Ringwood Wilhelmina in the early match at Olympic Park on Friday.

By LAURIE SCHWAB

After its 2-1 victory over Polonia last week, Croatia leads Footscray J.U.S.T. and Ringwood who have one point each.

Croatia and Ringwood are evenly matched in most departments, but Croatia's defence is steadier and Ringwood will find it hard to blanket the brilliant Billy Vojtek, who scored two goals in a dynamic performance last week.

In addition, Croatia has just acquired former Yugoslavian international Stefan Lanza, who represented his country 15 times.

Although he was not fit last week, he showed flashes of brilliance and should play a key role in midfield on Friday.

Ringwood has proven goalscorers in Keith Cockburn, Peter Ollerton and Rudi Muskee but they will have to be at their best to pass Billy McArthur, Jimmy Kondarios, Ray Wixey and new goalkeeper Zlatkoi Lapan.

In the second match on Friday, South Melbourne Hellas, strengthened by British signing Peter Bourne, should race away from the rest of the field by beating Melbourne.

Hellas proved far superior to Juventus two weeks ago, winning 3-0 and missing many chances.

Melbourne on the other hand, is still in desperate need of strikers.

Fight-back

Providing there are no upsets on Friday, a long-range tip is that Croatia, J.U.S.T., Hellas and George Cross will reach the 1972 Ampol Cup semi-finals.

George Cross staged a late fightback to draw 1-1 with Melbourne in the early Ampol Cup match at Olympic Park last Friday.

However, Melbourne could hve clinched the game early had it not been for near impossible misses by Joe Palinkas.

In the 10th and 12th minutes, Palinkas broke clear only to shoot straight at goalkeeper Lou Kastner from close range.

Ian McCarthy, bought by Melbourne from relegated Lions six weeks ago for $2000, played in patches but at his best he showed all his old zip and accuracy.

Melbourne took the lead in the 34th minute. Eugene Olah broke away from an opponent, let Kastner come out and guided the ball past him.

George Cross made two changes in the second half — Heywood coming on for Breslin and Tomic for Kelly.

This seemed to give new life to the Cross.

Key men Kevin Walker and Rothman's Medal winner John Gardiner suddenly came to life and took control of the *mid*field.

Four minutes from the final whistle, captain-coach John Sanches lobbed a free kick over the wall in the goal area and Gardiner, moving in from the left, rose high to nod home the equaliser.

Goals: Olah, 34th min., Gardiner (CC) 66th.

Best players, Melbourne: Juhasz, Szabo, McCarthy. George Cross: Sanchez, Fox Kastner.

Teams:

Melbourne: Odri, McGowen, Juhasz Szabo, Kelly, Shanks, McCarthy, McColgan, Palinkas (sub. Segi 48th min.) Olah, Bleszkany.

George Cross: Kastner, Ricks, McLachlan, Korlovic, Sanchez, Fox, Gardiner, Walker, Kelly (sub. Tomic 58th) Epifano, Breslin (sub. Heywood half time).

Vojtek stars

Two well-taken goals and a brilliant display of creative soccer by Australian international Billy Vojtek gave Croatia a narrow 2-1 victory over Polonia in the later game at Olympic Park last week.

Vojtek's was the best individual performance seen in the four Ampol Cup games so far and if he maintains this form he seems certain to get the two Australian caps he needs to *break Johnny War*ren's record for the largest number of international appearances.

Vojtek scored his first goal in the 17th minute, by first-timing a ball pulled back off the line by Billy McIntyre.

Croatia had most possession during the first half, with Ray Wixey and Jimmy Mackay also prominent, but could not increase its lead.

Polonia coach Kaz Kowalec came on in place of Ron Horfiniak at half time, in an effort to bolster the Maribyrnong team's attack.

His presence seemed to inspire the team and after 60 minutes, Czes Plaskota threw himself at a long ball from Edek Widera and headed it into the net for the equaliser.

But Vojtek was irrepressible. With four minutes left to play, he beat Andrew Czapnik, raced towards goal and hit the ball on the run past goalkeeper Ziggy Szalinski.

Two minutes later Wixey preserved Croatia's lead by sliding in front of Marek Konopka five yards from goal.

Goals: Croatia: Vojtek, 17th, 66th, Polonia: Plaskota 60th.

Best players, Croatia: Vojtek, Wixey, Mackay.

Polonia: Marmur, Olinowski, Widera.

Teams:

Croatia: Lapan, Wixey, Ivanovic, McArthur, Kondarios, Lanza, (sub. Adlam 52nd) McIntyre, Kuzilek, Vojtek, Mackay, Hadiavdic.

Polonia: Szalinski, Olinowski, Szliskaan, Oliiowk, Klimecki, Konopka, Marmur, Czapnik, Horfiniak (sub Kowalec half time), Jaworski, Adamczyk, Widera, Plaskota.

Lacrosse girls need your help

Only $50 is needed by three young Williamstown girls to compete overseas as members of the Australian women's lacrosse team.

The girls, Pam Rolley, *Margot Taylor and Vi*vienne Parker will play in Hong Kong, England, Scotland and America this year with the team.

A fund was started to help finance their trip last August and so far $950 has been contributed — just $50 short of the target.

Donations are welcomed before February 4 by Mrs. D. Richards, 30 The Strand Williamstown, phone 397 6622.

Single wicket comp. a big success

Williamstown Cricket Club conducted a successful single wicket competition at Williamstown last Sunday, with 24 players taking part.

Highlight of the first round was a gigantic six hit by Geoff Horsburgh, of Footscray CC and a "double duck" partnership by Noel McLeod and Peter Bowyer.

The dramatic clean-bowling of father Norm Shaw by his young son, Ron Shaw, also caught the imagination of the crowd.

After the quarter finals the combinations of Norm Shaw and Brian Park and Barry Hewat and Ron Shaw were left to do battle.

The game resulted in a thrilling tie, ending about 4.45 p.m.

It was decided to replay the game with each player having one over each.

Hewat and Ron Shaw made only eight runs.

This looked easy for the more experienced pair of Norm Shaw and Brian Park to pass, but they were struggling when Shaw was out.

Coming to the last ball, Brian Park needed two runs to win.

He hit the ball and they ran one, but the return missed the keeper and went to the boundary for four runs — giving victory to Norm Shaw and Brian Park.

It was learned and subsequently viewed with suspicion that brother Bert Park had returned the ball through to the fence for the four telling runs.

And here comes outright no. 3

Altona Cricket Club's A grade side seems set to notch its third outright win in a row, having already taken a first innings lead over Latrobe University (5th).

Over the past few weeks, Altona has acquired the services of two new players — Mike Snoxall (RAAF — Laverton), and Ken Collins (former Yarraville batsman).

Skipper Ken Hansen won the toss and sent the opposition in to bat.

The sixth ball of the second over saw Shaw pick up the first wicket when Snoxall accepted a catch at square leg.

With Snoxall bowling well at the opposite end, the score was 1/0.

Shaw' second over sent the opposition crashing to 3/1, after Page accepted two sharp catches in slips.

Then Snoxall captured his first wicket, and in his fourth over, a further three wickets were added to his credit to cap off a brilliant bowling burst.

Latrobe was a sensational 7/10.

The tail end batsmen created a problem and swung wildly at the bowling, adding seven runs before Snoxall captured his fifth wicket.

A further 14 runs were added before Snoxall struck again for his sixth wicket.

Hansen relieved Shaw and with his sixth ball, had the last batsman caught.

After a magnificent bowling and fielding performance by Altona, Latrobe were all out for 34 from a total of 12 overs.

Mike Snoxall captured 6/14, Colin Shaw 3/14 and Ken Hansen 1/3.

Thomas and McLeod opened the batting for Altona and quickly had 30 runs on the board, before Thomas was dismissed for 12.

Garde joined McLeod and this pair took the score to 96 (McLeod 50 not out and Garde 33).

Skipper Hansen closed the innings 62 runs in front, with 65 minutes of play left.

Latrobe once again were in trouble when Dare captured a wicket with the score at 7.

However, they recovered and added 22 runs before Page captured his first wicket.

Snoxall bowled a maiden over, which enabled Page to bowl the last over of the day.

His first ball was on target and Latrobe were now 3/30.

The in-coming batsman was lucky to survive the remaining seven balls after two confident lbw appeals.

At stumps, Altona had six points and already look certain to take another four — weather permitting.

Up until this match, Latrobe were in fifth position.

With three matches, left to play, Altona look set to take their place in the final four.

YOUR CLUB SHOULD LIE FLAT

Golfers who constantly fight a hook or a slice with certain clubs in their set should check those clubs to see that they are properly fitted as to "lie." The "lie" of a club is determined by the angle formed by the clubshaft and the clubhead. A club's lie will be either normal, upright or flat.

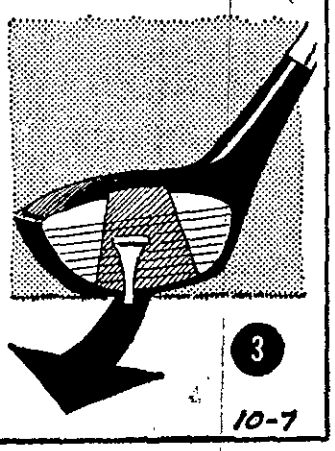

If the club's lie is normal for you, the sole of the club should rest flat on the ground when you address the ball. This is ideal for straight shots (illustration #1).

If the club rests on its heel, the lie is too upright (illustration #2). The heel will dig into the ground during your swing, and your shots will take off to the left from a closed clubface.

If the club rests on its toe (illustration #3), the lie is too flat for you. The toe will dig in, open the clubface and force your shots off to the right.

Have a friend or, better yet, your professional check the lie of your clubs as you address the ball.
